Focus of the Pike Place Market Master Plan

Survey respondents were asked to select up to three statements they believe should be a focus of the Pike Place Market Master Plan.
We analyzed respondents’ top statements both in aggregate and categorized them based on the following market affiliations:

- Live at the Market
- Food and retail workers
- Social service providers
- Commercial business owners
- Tenants in non-PDA buildings
- Craft and farm agents
- Craft permit holders
- Farm permit holders
- Busker permit holders

Note: Statements in the following charts were edited slightly for presentation purposes. See the Survey Instrument for exact wording.
Topline Results

• Respondents most wanted the Master Plan to focus on:
  • The mix of offerings to attract locals
  • Under-visited areas, especially in the off-season
  • Right balance of locals and tourists
• Other statements specific to affiliation subsets (indicated in parentheses):
  • Regulations that preserve the Market’s character without being overly burdensome (craft and farm agents and permit holders)
  • Market becoming an evening destination (busker permit holders)
  • Local understanding of social impact (social service providers)
  • Uplifting merchants from under-represented groups (social service providers)

“It would be amazing if the market had a small business liaison that could help market businesses & permit holders navigate things like taxes, health insurance, etc.”

“We need more face time with Market managers - visiting shops, introducing themselves and talking to people, observing how things are done, seeing the good and bad for themselves. There needs to be better/mandated response time to business owners' inquiries.”

“The historic preservation can be too limiting. I know of one instance where a Black business owner was denied a stall because it historically only sold fruit. I believe it’s important to identify areas where historic preservation locks out communities who should be represented and who weren't, historically.”

“An authentic Pike Place Market should be a place locals want to go to for groceries and one-of-a-kind gifts and a place where farmers want to sell their produce. The balance between tourists and locals has been skewed to the point where we have to cater to one. The challenge is that there is more money with tourism and that will win every time. If you can't sell to the tourist, you can't thrive.”

“It would help to market festival events better (upcoming Oktoberfest, maybe do a German-themed Christkindlesmarkt, Latino Dia de Los Muertos, etc. celebrating different cultures, and sub-cultures.”

“Have inviting evening locations, food stalls and seating with appropriate music, covered and perhaps even heated as the days grow shorter.”

“Keeping the small business and meet the producer in forefront of the retail principle --the handmade craft aspect, home grown farm aspect makes PPM Unique and a colorful destination. Treat the community members as family and individuals who sometime need different personal support than a corporate entity does, especially as they age and have devoted lives to market. keep a personal aspect to dealings at the Market. Keep things HUMANE.”

“Overall, I think the Market we have now is quite close to ideal. I believe the most important thing going forward is to focus on maintaining this truly incredible community we share, not only that but to also ensure a great experience for each & every visitor.”

“Keep rents for all businesses: commercial tenants, daystalls and low income house affordable.”

Survey Instrument
Internal Market Community Survey

Welcome Pike Place Market is in the process of developing a vision for a sustainable future.

As a member of the Pike Place Market community who is here year-round, your experiences and ideas will provide the master planning team with important insights into challenges and opportunities at the Market that we will not hear elsewhere.

Your ideas and responses will be summarized and shared with the Pike Place Market Preservation & Development Authority (PDA) Council to guide the Master Plan. For more information on the Master Plan goals and process, see the website and FAQ here.

Included on this survey are several questions related to Pike Place (the cobblestone street that runs from Pike Street to Virginia) that will help provide the PDA with baseline data and help inform future planning.

This survey should take about 15 minutes to complete. Please submit your responses by 11:45pm on Tuesday, September 26th (survey deadline has been extended). Thank you for your participation!
